

Tanner Chiropractic

Your New Website — A Synopsis

This site has one job: sell the expertise of Dr. Glen Tanner. The pages that follow explain how it does that — what's been built, what makes it different from your current site and the Upwork revision, and what we need from you to go live.

Prepared for: Dr. Glen J. Tanner, D.C.

Prepared by: Tom Zgainer, Point Zero AI

Date: May 14, 2026

Status: Preview live at tanner-chiro-prototype-production.up.railway.app

A Synopsis for Dr. Glen Tanner

Prepared by Tom Zgainer · Point Zero AI · May 14, 2026

Why This Site Exists

This site has one job: sell the expertise of Dr. Glen Tanner.

Not describe a chiropractic office. Not list services. Not look pretty for the sake of looking pretty. Every section, every photo, every line of copy is engineered to do one thing — make you the obvious choice for someone in North Scottsdale who needs an expert.

You are the product. The site is your salesman when you're not in the room.

The Three Principles Behind The Design

1. Subtraction beats addition.

The Upwork developer's revision had 15 sections and 25 photos. Your current live site has 8 nav menus and dozens of sub-pages. The new site has 9 focused sections and 4 photos. Less to read. More to remember. Premium feels less crowded.

2. Specifics sell. Claims don't.

"30 years experience" is a claim. "Physician and corner man for multiple world champion boxers. Physician for world-class and professional golfers. Developer of the Golfer's Edge program at Desert Mountain." — those are specifics. The new site is built on specifics.

3. One ask.

Your current site has eight different buttons (Schedule Appointment, Book Now, Call Today, Learn More, Read More, Get Started, etc.). The new site has one ask, repeated everywhere: "Book Your Consultation." A confused visitor doesn't decide — they leave. We removed the confusion.

How Each Page Sells You

Homepage

The tagline pulls them in — "Don't Let Pain Stop You From Feeling Your Best." Then a fast credibility cascade: 30+ years → TPI Certified → five-star Google reviews → three real patient testimonials → why your integrated approach is different → your services → your bio → the $49 first visit → the map → the final ask.

A visitor can be convinced you're the right doctor in under 90 seconds.

About Dr. Tanner

The deep credibility page. Palmer College of Chiropractic West. C.C.S.M.S. Board Certified in Physiotherapy. TPI Levels 1 and 2. Physician for world champion boxers. Physician for world-class and professional golfers. Developer of the Golfer's Edge program at Desert Mountain. This is the page someone reads after the homepage convinces them you might be the answer — and seals it.

Services

Eight integrated services (Chiropractic Care, Rehabilitation, Decompression Therapy, Cold Laser Therapy, Clinical Pilates, Personal Training, Massage Therapy, and the TPI Golf Performance program) explained in plain English with the patient's problem leading and the modality second. No jargon. Each service answers "when does this apply to me."

Conditions — Five Dedicated Detail Pages

This is the deepest strategic move. When someone in Scottsdale Googles "chiropractor for sciatica" or "shoulder rotator cuff specialist Scottsdale," your page on that condition isn't a one-paragraph blurb — it's the most thorough, plain-English explanation in town. Each page covers what's actually going on biomechanically, when to come in, and exactly which combination of your tools we use to fix it. Pages built:

- Lower Back Pain — the 6 typical contributors, the 4-to-8-week plan
- Sciatica — five real causes (most chiros lump them together), conservative-care framing
- Neck Pain & Migraines — postural cause, the integrated retraining plan
- Shoulder & Rotator Cuff — biomechanical cause, the non-surgical option
- Golf Injury & Swing Correction — the TPI movement screen, swing fault → body limitation map, Desert Mountain credentials

Search engines reward thorough condition pages. Patients trust the doctor who explains the problem clearly. We win both.

Golf — Your Specialty Spotlight

The homepage has a dedicated "Golfer's Edge" section before the bio, because golf is one of your highest-value patient populations. It calls out by name the clubs your patients come from — Troon, Desert Mountain, Grayhawk, DC Ranch, Pinnacle Peak, Terravita. A golfer at one of those clubs will see themselves in this site instantly.

New Patients — $49 Exam

We made the first visit a clear, low-friction offer: $49 for a full evaluation, movement screen, and a written treatment plan. Three steps. What to bring. What to expect. Insurance question handled. No mystery, no pressure. This is the conversion engine. If you'd rather it say "Free 15-minute consultation," we change one line and you're done.

Contact

Phone first (because you answer in person). A simple callback form for people who'd rather not call. Live Google Map. Hours. Privacy statement. No PHI collected — anywhere.

What's Different From Your Current Live Site

Your current site	The new site
"20 years experience"	"30+ years in practice"
Boxing world champions — briefly mentioned	Boxing world champions — featured prominently
Desert Mountain Golfer's Edge — not mentioned	Featured in its own homepage section
4 generic testimonials, no names	3 real Google reviews with full attribution (Angela M., K. B., Lauren S.)
ChiroPlanet WordPress template	Custom-built, no platform lock-in, no monthly template fee
Generic "Playing Your Best" hero	"Feeling Your Best" with full credibility cascade beneath

What's Different From What The Upwork Developer Was Building

Their revision	The new site
15 sections, 25 photos, 8 different buttons	9 sections, 4 photos, 1 primary button
WordPress with image bloat	Static HTML, fast on every device
Generic chiro-template feel	Premium, specialist feel
$49 exam not visible	$49 exam visible above the fold
Placeholder testimonials	Real Google reviews with real names
30+ pages of weak content	12 pages of focused content

A Note On Accuracy

This site uses only content sourced from your actual practice — your live site at www.tannerchiropractic.com. We have deliberately kept everything separate from "Tanner Chiropractic & Acupuncture" (your brother's practice at doctortanner.com), which is a different business. The services listed, the testimonials shown, the credentials cited — all are yours. We also flagged this distinction explicitly in the AI-search index file (`llms.txt`) so ChatGPT, Claude, and Perplexity won't conflate the two practices when patients ask about Scottsdale chiropractors.

What You Get Under The Hood (Plain English)

- Loads in under 3 seconds on mobile and desktop.
 - Schema.org tags — so when Google looks at your site it understands "this is a Chiropractor in Scottsdale, AZ with a specific list of services," not just "another website." This is how you show up correctly in local search results.
 - An `llms.txt` file — so when patients ask ChatGPT or Claude or Perplexity "who's a good chiropractor for golfers in Scottsdale," the AI sees a clean index of your specialties and recommends you. This is the next decade of search; we built for it.
 - HIPAA-safe — no health data collected anywhere on the site. All clinical workflow stays inside your practice management software, exactly as it should.
 - Mobile-first — every page tested at phone, tablet, and desktop sizes.
 - Hosted on Railway — we change something, it's live in 60 seconds. No webmaster, no help-desk tickets, no waiting.
-

Where To See It

<https://tanner-chiro-prototype-production.up.railway.app>

Open it on your phone. Open it on your desktop. Click everything. Read the condition pages. Try the callback form. Tell us what's wrong, what's missing, what doesn't sound like you.

Note: The site is currently invisible to Google. That's on purpose — we don't want it competing with your current live site until you're ready to migrate. The moment you say "go," we make it visible.

What We Need From You

- 1 Read the site. Spend ten minutes. Click every page. Tell us what to change.
- 2 Confirm the $49 new patient exam offer — keep it as-is, change the price, or swap to "Free 15-min consultation"?
- 3 Send your online scheduler URL. Every "Book Your Consultation" button can route to it instantly.
- 4 Any photos you want included beyond the one we already have? Office shots, treatment-room shots, you with a patient — anything that's authentically you.

-
- 5 Should we add acupuncture or shock wave therapy as services? Both appear in your patient testimonials but aren't in your formal service list right now — we left them out to match your current site. If you do offer either, we'll add them properly.
 - 6 When you're happy, give us the green light to migrate the live domain (tannerchiropractic.com → this build). It's a 30-minute DNS change and the new site goes live.
-

Bottom Line

Glen — you have spent thirty years building expertise that most chiropractors will never approach. You have served as physician for world champion boxers. You have served as physician for world-class and professional golfers. You developed a performance program at one of the most prestigious golf communities in the country.

Your old site didn't say any of that with confidence. The Upwork rebuild was making it worse, not better.

This new site says all of it — clearly, specifically, and without apology.

It's built to sell you.

— Tom Zgainer Point Zero AI tomz@pointzeroai.com